

Edwards Winter Break Reminders

Head Lice

In the past couple of weeks, we have had several students out with head lice. We have taken steps to try to eliminate head lice at school. We are encouraging students to store their coats in their backpacks and avoid head to head contact.

We are asking each family to please check your child for head lice. We would like to start 2018 lice free. If head lice are found and you need further information on treatment over the holiday break, please consult your doctor or see this link from the CDC for more information.
